

*Wednesday, October 6th, 2010
Northridge Center, USU
4:00 - 6:45 p.m.*

Over one million people are victims of trafficking and sex tourism worldwide. The CSUN Forum on Human Trafficking will utilize film, performance, interactive art, and a panel of experts to encourage discussion about this practice of modern day slavery that affects so many in our transnational community.

Organized By: Department of Asian American Studies • Department of Gender and Women's Studies
Sponsored By: The Office of the Provost • College of Business and Economics • College of Humanities • College of Social and Behavioral Sciences • Oviatt Library • The Women's Research and Resource Center
Asian Americans for Community and Talent

California State University
Northridge

Design & Illustration: The Center For Visual Communication 4V1SCOM