Your professional profile, which candidateseeker.com has on file, indicates you may have experience or know someone with experience relevant to the following position. I was hoping you might be interested or be willing to forward this email to an associate who could benefit from this opportunity.

One of NJ's leading property and casualty insurance carriers seeks an experienced Loss Control Specialist to service a northern NJ territory. In this position, you will not only provide in-depth risk evaluation and identification of loss producing situations, you will also prepare the risk improvement plans for your accounts and provide council and assistance to underwriters on new and renewal accounts.

Position requires current or recent experience as a loss control representative in an insurance carrier environment. Multi-line experience with a strong background in General Liability, W/C and property/sprinklers as well as knowledge of OSHA, NFPA and other technical standards is required. CSP, ALCM, ARM or CPCU are highly desirable. Salary to $90,000 plus company car, bonus and full benefits including medical, dental, vision and 401K.
