

This position is for a national environmental consulting firm. Most of the work will be done in the downtown LA area. The salary is set based on experience and whether the applicant can bring in business, but the range is $80,000 - $120,000. They must be a certified industrial hygienist, and should come from a industrial facility background (not asbestos or mold). They should have 3-4 years of industrial experience, and 10-12 of general hygienist experience. It is important to have strong writing skills and must have the ability to work well with others. If they have a aerospace or a chemical manufacturing background that is a plus.
