Programs

Undergraduate:

B.A. Religious Studies

Minor in Religious Studies

The Major

The Religious Studies Major is designed to provide a liberal arts education with an emphasis upon the study of religious phenomena. The Religious Studies Major provides an excellent basis from which to pursue careers requiring imagination, problem-solving, communication skills, and awareness of human diversity.

Scholarships and Awards

The John Cummings Memorial Scholarship and the Stephen J. Svec Memorial Scholarship.

Careers

Skills gained in the Religious Studies major or minor are applicable to many other areas in the academic, business, and professional spheres. Religious Studies majors have pursued careers in government, business, education, communications, human services, and law

Academic Advisement

Advisement is required of all religious studies majors each semester prior to registration. Majors may contact Dr. Rick Talbott during scheduled office hours and by appointment.

Student Learning Outcomes of the Undergraduate Program

A religious studies major will be able to interpret religious texts, think both empathetically and critically about conflicting religious claims, acquire knowledge of the history of more than one major religious tradition, apply intercultural methods to religious inquiry and analysis, and articulate a perception of one's role in society, in both career and public service options.
