

Reading Text Books

Read any article using the “PQRST” method and answer the following questions.

Preview: Look over the article before you begin to read it. What do the title, the large print quote, and the first paragraph suggest the article will discuss?

Question: What questions do you have about this topic that the article can answer for you?

Read: What is the main point of the article? What evidence or supporting arguments are given for making the main point?

Summarize: In your own words, briefly summarize this article.

Test: Imagine you are to be tested on this article. Make-up at least three (3) potential exam questions that might appear on a test
