

The Current Financial Crisis: Workshop/Conference

Tuesday, April 21, 2009

Whitsett Room

4th floor of Sierra Hall, Rm. 451

9:30 – 1:00 pm

9:30 – 9:35 Introduction: Jane Bayes, Political Science

9:35 – 10:45 Panel I

Presentation & Discussion

Nicholas Dungey, Political Science

What does the financial crisis mean philosophically?

Larry Becker, Political Science

The Crisis, Congress, and the Presidency

Tom Hogen-Esch, Political Science

The Crisis and the State of California

10:45 – 11:00 A.M. Break

11:00 - 1:00 Panel II

Presentation & Discussion

William Jennings, Business and Economics

The Crisis and Retiring Baby-Boomers

Boris Ricks, Political Science

The Crisis and the City of Los Angeles

Florence Kyomugisha, Gender and Women's Studies

The Crisis and its Impact on Third World Women

Dianne Bartlow, Gender and Women's Studies

The Crisis and Violence Against Women

California State University
Northridge

Years of Life-Changing
Opportunity

Sponsored by the Institute of Globalization, Gender and Democratization, The Women's Center, The Political Science Department and the Gender and Women's Studies Department

Communication services (sign language, interpreters, note takers, real-time captionists or assistive listening devices) are available for this event. Requests for services must be submitted at least five (5) working days in advance.