

sustainability

and the california dream

On October 16, 2009, policymakers, scholars, and a public audience will meet to discuss the challenges of sustaining the California dream while reducing waste, greening the State, and reducing spending. Can we preserve the California Dream for future generations? Yes we can. The Twenty-First Annual Envisioning California Conference will showcase the State's best and brightest problem-solvers in a dynamic conversation about sustaining California.

friday, october 16, 2009 | the skirball cultural center | los angeles, ca