Asian Americans and Politics

You are cordially invited to the Asian American Studies Department speaker event and end-of-year holiday mixer with students, faculty, and CSUN alumni.

Our speakers will be talking about the different roles they have had in politics, including community organizing, creating legislation and policies, and supporting arts and local businesses. They will also be speaking about the relevance of Asian American Studies for careers in politics and small business.

Date: December 8th, Thursday
Time: 4pm-6pm
Location: Colleagues Room, 2nd Floor Sierra Center

This event is sponsored by the Asian American Studies Department, Political Science Department, and the College of Humanities Academic Programming Fund.
