

Biosphere

The Weekly Bulletin of Biology

Biology Colloquium (Friday 2 PM in CR 5125)

Dr. Jonathan Pruitt
University of California, Santa Barbara

*“From individuals, to populations, to communities, to extinction:
when does animal personality matter?”*

CSUN graduate is awarded major research award

Chris Wall, a CSUN graduate and currently a doctoral candidate at the University of Hawai‘i, Mānoa, was awarded $132,000 through the Environmental Protection Agency, Science to Achieve Results (EPA-STAR) fellowship. Chris will study how near-shore stressors (such as nutrient pollution) and global stressors (such as rising seawater temperatures) affect coral reefs.

Job announcement

Animal Caretaker/Stockroom Assistant at Occidental College

The Department of Biology at Occidental College is looking for candidates with a Bachelor’s degree in Biology and an outstanding academic record to work closely with biology professors in preparing for laboratory sessions, field trips, study sessions and examinations.

Click here for more information.

SAVE THE DATE for the next Biology Alumni Association BIOBASH
Thursday November 3 at 6PM (free for Faculty and Students!)