Qualifications

The David Nazarian College of Business and Economics is accredited by AACSB International and expects all instructional faculty to meet and maintain current AACSB standards of faculty qualification. These qualifications may be met by a J.D. from an ABA-accredited law school, eligibility to practice law, preferably in California; significant and substantial experience in the practice of law in areas relevant to subjects being taught, including exposure to general business problems, significant in depth and complexity; expertise in subject matter. In addition, previous experience and proven excellence in teaching law, real estate, or related courses at the university level, a history of scholarly research and publications, and business experience are highly desirable. An M.B.A. or other graduate degree in business or economics from an accredited college or university, law-review membership, and experience as a law clerk at the appellate level are also highly desirable. Evaluations of candidates will be based upon their academic background and scholarship, professional experience, teaching experience, ability to stimulate intellectual discussion while following course objectives and department teaching standards, and potential to publish in the profession (e.g. academic or trade journals). All part-time faculty are expected to participate actively in the academic life of the department and college. Applicants must demonstrate ability and commitment to working with a diverse student population.

Current Salary Range: Per 3-unit course dependent on experience & qualifications

Application Process: Applicants should forward a current resume and a letter which designates specific courses or areas they are interested in teaching and, whenever possible, times available for teaching assignments. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience.

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:

Hardcopy to: Department of Business Law California State University, Northridge 18111 Nordhoff Street Northridge, CA 91330-8375
