

Short Bio of James A. Darling

Jim Darling is the Regional Executive Officer, Pacific Region, for Chubb LTD. Jim began his career with Chubb & Son as a summer intern in 1981. He subsequently joined the Marine Underwriting Trainee Program, became an underwriter, and progressed over the next 13 years to become a Senior Vice President and Worldwide Marine and Energy Manager in 1995.

In 2000, Jim moved to a new phase of his career when he became the Milwaukee Branch Manager. Then 2003-2008, he ran the Pittsburgh Branch, and came to California in June 2008. He is currently responsible for the 7 Pacific Region Branches, with $2.5 billion in premium.

Jim received his Bachelor of Science in Marketing at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana, in 1982. He is a lifelong learner and continued his education through executive courses at Harvard Business School (“Leading Change and Organizational Renewal”) and The Wharton School (Global Executive Program).