

Thursday, April 24
451 Sierra Hall
California State University Northridge

8:30AM-9:00AM Coffee and refreshments

9:00-10:30: Panel 1: Multiracial Performance and Activism

William Gow (PhD, UCB Ethnic Studies)

“Performing Chinatown: Chinese Americans and Wartime Spectacles in Los Angeles, 1938-1941.”

williamgow@berkeley.edu

Aaron Byungjoo Bae (PhD, ASU)

“Multiracial Radicalism and the Local Free Huey Movement in the San Francisco Bay Area, 1967-1971.”

aaron.b.bae@gmail.com

Daniel Santana (MA, CSUN)

“The Multiethnic Opposition to the Mass Deportation of Mexicans in McCarthy-Era Los Angeles, 1951-1959.”

daniel.santana.52@my.csun.edu

10:30-12:00: Panel 2: New Directions in the 1960s and 1970s

Ryan Fukumori (PhD American Studies, USC)

“The Urban Crisis of Academic Race Relations: UCLA and Surveys of Race in the 1960s.”

fukumori@usc.edu

Caitlin Anne Parker (PhD, UCLA)

“Fiscal Time Bombs: Proposition 13 and Public Employee Pensions.”

caitlinparker@ucla.edu

Ian M. Baldwin (PhD, UNLV)

“Equitable Housing, Gay Liberation, and the Opening of the American Family in Greater Los Angeles during the 1970s.”

baldwini@unlv.nevada.edu

12:00-1:00: Hosted Lunch

1:00-2:30: Panel 3: Nineteenth Century Environment and Politics

Cyler Conrad (PhD Anthro, UNM)

“Galapagos Tortoises and Sea Turtles in Gold Rush-Era California.”

cylerc@unm.edu

Daniel Lynch, (PhD, UCLA)

“Southern California Chivalry: White Male Southerners, Californios, and the Forging of an Unlikely Alliance, 1846-1856.”

daniellynch@ucla.edu

2:30-4:00: Panel 4: Americans on the Border

JoAnna Wall (PhD, UCLA)

“An American Woman in California: Colonial Spanish Codes of Honor and the case of Sally May.”

jmwall@ucla.edu

Catherine Christensen (PhD, UCI)

“Selling American Girls at the Border: Mexico’s White Slave Trade in the California Imaginary.”

christec@uci.edu

Whitsett Graduate Seminar & Lecture

Please join the History Department at CSUN for the Annual Whitsett Graduate Seminar & Lecture in California History. From 9:00-4:00 the Seminar will feature the work of 10 exceptional graduate students in discussion with leading experts in topics related to California. At 7:30, join us again for the Whitsett Lecture, “How the Starbucks Generation is Erasing Cultural History,” delivered this year by DR. NATALIA MOLINA, UC San Diego, author of Fit to Be Citizens? (Berkeley: UC Press, 2006) and How Race is Made in America (Berkeley: UC Press, 2013)

Dr. Natalia Molina, Professor of History and Associate Dean for Faculty Equity, Division of Arts and Humanities, UC San Diego

date

4/24/14

location

451 SIERRA TOWER
CSUN

time

9:00 AM-8:30PM

Admission is free but please
RSVP: 818-677-3566