CSUNs Emergency Blue Light Phones & TTY Call Boxes

In an effort to help make a safer campus for everyone, Cal State University, Northridge has installed emergency blue light phones and yellow TTY enabled call boxes. Emergency phones are to be used for incidents in which police, fire or medical assistance is needed.

The emergency phones can be identified by their distinct tower-design and blue light located on the top of each unit. These lights are automatically lit after dark and flash when in use to draw attention.

The emergency blue light phones, which are equipped with speakerphones, automatically dial 911. To call for assistance, press the button next to the word "EMERGENCY" and you will be automatically connected to a University Police Dispatcher. The dispatcher will be notified of your exact location and send help.

The yellow TTY call boxes, designed for the deaf and hard of hearing community, are equipped with a small keyboard that enables the caller to type messages directly to University Police Dispatch. The police dispatcher can send a message to the caller by either typing or using a computer to choose pre-selected emergency responses. Press the 'phone' button and it will automatically dial 911 bypassing the keyboard. Pick up the receiver and speak into the phone.

The emergency blue light phones and yellow TTY enabled call boxes are located throughout the campus in high traffic areas such as campus walkways, parking lots and structures, the University Park Apartments Complex and other common areas. See the reverse side for locations.

WARNING

The emergency telephones are provided for the safety and security of all students, faculty, staff, and visitors. Abuse or misuse through prank, false alarm, or harassing calls is a crime by state statute and violators will be prosecuted. If you press the emergency button by mistake, please advise the emergency operator of your mistake.
