

2008 Annual Conference

May 2-4, 2008
California State University, Chico

DEAR FRIENDS AND FELLOW GEOGRAPHERS,
On behalf of the California Geographical Society, California State University, Chico, we cordially invite you to our 62nd Annual Conference, to be held at Chico State on May 2-4, 2008

Chico State Campus

Upper Bidwell Park

Conservation and Planning for Sustainability

Bidwell Mansion

HIGHLIGHTS INCLUDE

- A wide variety of scenic and historical field trips.
- Teaching Geography in K-12 seminars by nationally recognized speaker Dr. Phil Gersmehl.
- Fundamentals of GIS for Social Sciences: workshop by Chris Lewis

Chico is known for its historic architecture, walkable downtown and majestic trees. It is home to the famous Bidwell Park and Mansion, and many other physical and cultural amenities. Chico prides itself in its commitment to the preservation of its physical and cultural resources.

The designated conference hotel is the Oxford Suites, conveniently located off Highway 99 just south of downtown Chico

For more information, visit: WWW.CALGEOG.ORG

Please contact Jacque Chase, CGS Conference Coordinator, at (530) 898-5587 or jchase@csuchico.edu with questions about the conference or facility.