

SLO (j)
Performance Criteria
or
Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)

1. The student can demonstrate an understanding of the concepts and principles of software design.
2. The student can model and evaluate systems from different perspectives.
3. The student can apply the object-oriented design technique.
4. Given a problem to solve, the student can provide multiple design solutions and discuss the advantages and disadvantages of each.