

Psychology 460 - Sample Transcript

Ir: Interviewer

Ie: Interviewee

Ir1: You feel a little depressed? Can you tell me a little bit more about that?

Ie2: Well, I've been having problems with my boyfriend lately. Um, he's been kinda mad at me because I've been talking to my friends more than I used to.

Ir3: Really, so your boyfriend is perhaps maybe getting a little jealous of the time you've been spending with your friends?

Ie4: I think so, I think he is, but I don't know, cause he always goes out with his friends so.

Ir5: So maybe you're feeling like it's kind of contradictory?

Ie6: Yea, Yea.

Ir7: Okay, when, when did you first start noticing that this began?

Ie8: About, a couple of months ago.

Ir9: How long have you been together?

Ie10: Three years.

Ir11: So, after a few years, he starts getting jealous? Would jealous be a good word?

Ie12: Yeah, I think he gets jealous because I'm starting to go out with my friends more and I pay more attention to them, because he's not my priority anymore.

Ir13: Okay. So, how, how, does that make you feel?

Ie14: Um, I don't like the fact that he gets mad so easily now, but um, I really don't care anymore. Sometimes I get mad, but most of the time I'm fine. It's the things he says that hurts mostly.

Ir15: What kind of things?

Ie16: Um, he puts me down, he says that I'm not good enough for certain things.

Ir17: And, what kind of things does he say that you're not good enough for?

Ie18: He usually, usually when I go out with his family, he tells me I'm not good enough to be around his family stuff like that.

Ir19: And how does that something like that make you feel?

Ie20: Bad. But I just try not to let it get to me.

Ir21: Okay. So, your boyfriend is a big part of your life?