Five-county population of American Indians who specified a tribe is 76,960. An additional 7,464 American Indians did not specify a tribe and are not included in the mapped data.

Bar length indicates proportion of all valid tracts included in a category. In most cases a category includes 2, 3, 5, 10, 30, 40, or 50 percent of the included tracts. The bar length of the excluded tracts is not related to its tract count.
