The Ten Commandments

1. The Hebrews should show concern for the needs of others by honoring their parents, not committing murder or adultery, not stealing, not bearing false witness against their neighbors, and not desiring what their neighbors have.

2. Conduct toward the Lord; conduct toward others

3. Possible response: They establish rules for respecting others; they begin to delineate rights by suggesting some of the things one person cannot do in terms of another.