

California State University Northridge

What is environmental and occupational health?

- Protecting the environment
- Preventing disease
- Improving worker health and safety
- An accredited program at CSUN leading to BS and MS degrees

What types of jobs are available?

- Consulting
- Government
- Research
- Private industry
- Non-profit

What courses are part of the program?

- Air pollution
- Water
- Hazardous waste
- Toxicology
- Sciences including biology, chemistry and physics

Hazardous Materials

Storm Water Quality

Food Safety

Biomedical Waste

Respiratory Protection

Chemical Storage

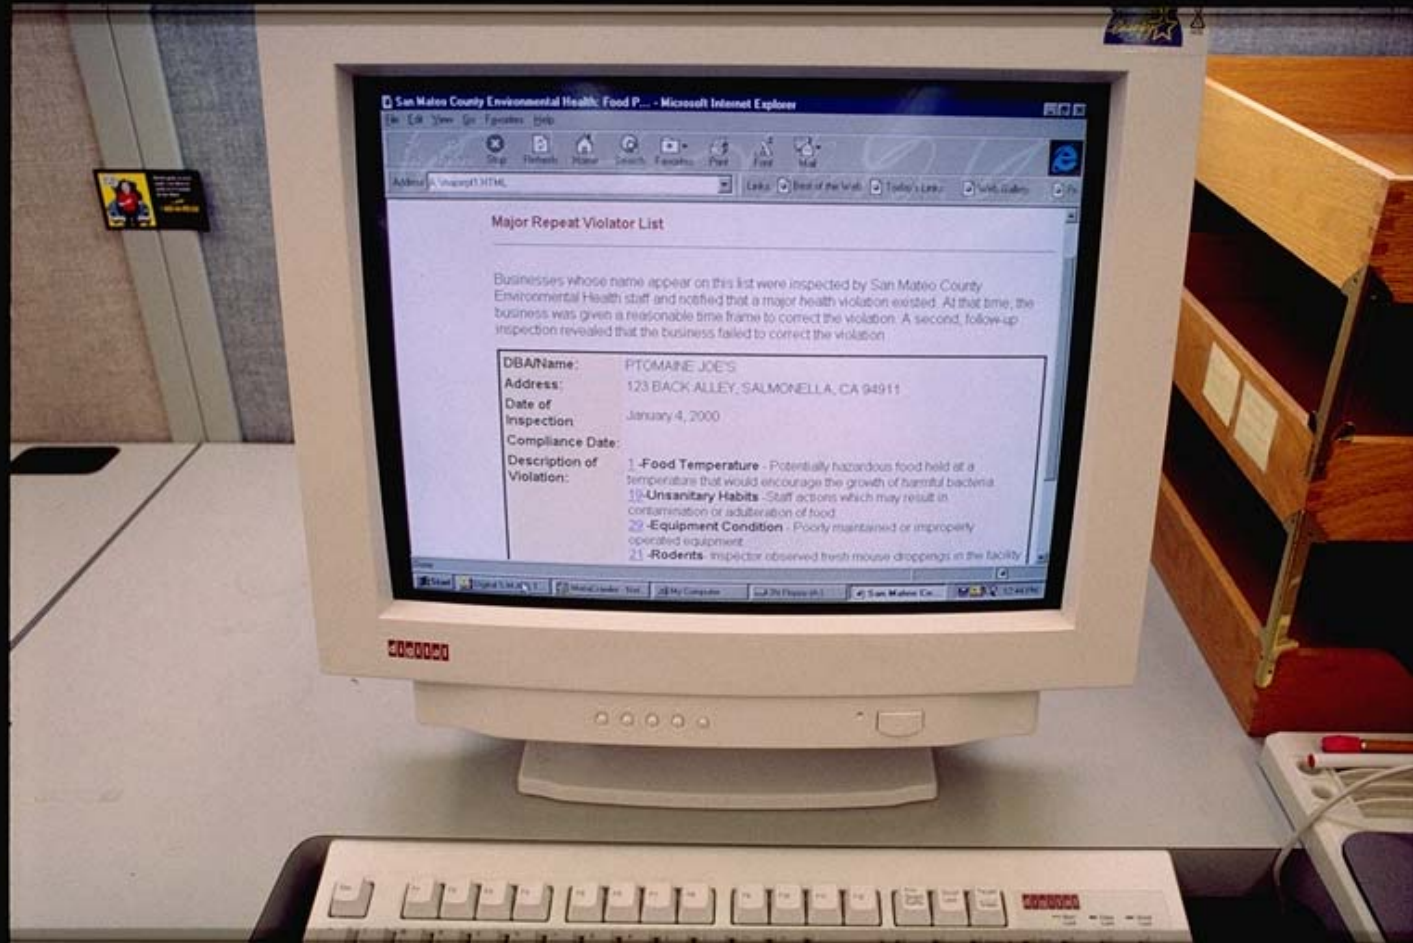

Employee Exposures

Drinking Water

Ergonomics

Rodent Control

Lead Paint

Underground Storage Tanks

Radiation Monitoring

Solid Waste

Safety Compliance

Ocean Water Quality

Where can I go to get more information?

- CSUN Department of Environmental and Occupational Health
 - ◆ <http://www.csun.edu/~vchsc00b/EOH/EOH.htm>
 - ◆ (818) 677-7476
- College counselor

CSUN Environmental and Occupational Health

- Building a healthier world one graduate at a time.

