Health Administration Program

About the University:
Serving more than 42,000 students each year, CSUN is one of the largest universities in the United States, and it has an impact to match its size. Money Magazine recently named CSUN one of the top ten values in all of higher education, and the Social Mobility Index ranked CSUN fifth in the nation for elevating its students’ economic and social well-being. CSUN ranks 10th in the country in awarding bachelor’s degrees to underrepresented minority students, fifth nationally in awarding master’s degrees to Hispanic students and enrolls the largest number of deaf and hard-of-hearing students of any U.S. state university. CSUN’s 171 academic programs and engaged centers enjoy international recognition for excellence. CSUN currently partners with more than 100 institutions of higher education in 22 countries around the globe and attracts the largest international student population of any U.S. master’s level institution. Situated on a 356-acre park-like setting in the heart of Los Angeles’ San Fernando Valley, the campus features modern educational buildings and world-class LEED Gold-certified performing arts and recreational facilities recognized as among the best in the country. CSUN is designated as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and an Asian American, Native American, Pacific Islander Serving Institution (AANAPISI) and we value the diversity of all of our students and the campus community. CSUN is a welcoming university that champions accessibility, academic excellence and student success.

CSUN’s Commitment to You:
CSUN is strongly committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, active learning and diversity. Our values include a respect for all people, building alliances with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity.

As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, CSUN strives to create a community in which a diverse population can work, teach and learn in an atmosphere of civility and respect for the rights of each individual. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, genetic information, marital status, or veteran status. For more information about the University, check our website: http://www.csun.edu

Qualifications:

A Doctorate in Health Administration or a related disciplinary field is required. ABDs will be considered, but must demonstrate progress and have completed the terminal degree before August 24, 2016. Evidence of effective teaching is required (i.e. student evaluations, peer evaluations, through letters of recommendations, etc.). Evidence of on-going research activity and potential to secure external funding to support research and publication is desirable. Work experience in healthcare administration is desired. Applicants must demonstrate ability and commitment to working with a diverse student population. Experienced in the use of learning management systems (i.e. Blackboard, Moodle, etc), and innovative teaching techniques, which could include on-line teaching and instructional technology.

CSUN is a Learning Centered University. The successful candidate will be expected to join faculty and staff in a commitment to active learning, to the assessment of learning outcomes, and to the creation of multiple pathways that enable student success.

At time of appointment, the successful candidate, if not a U.S. citizen, must have authorization from the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services to work in the United States.

Responsibilities:

The following are primary teaching competency areas: healthcare finance, quantitative methods, healthcare organization and delivery, and cultural competence, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Other related areas may be considered. The successful candidate will also participate in various committees, student advisement, curriculum review, development and assessment, other program functions. The successful candidate is expected to keep a scholarly agenda and make contributions to the field. The successful candidate is expected to actively participate in his or her professional societies/associations and maintain currency in the field of health administration. The successful candidate should conduct publishable research and attempt to secure external funding to support research and scholarly activity. The successful candidate may be required to teach on weekdays, evenings, weekends and possibly on-line.

The University especially seeks individuals who will contribute to both their chosen discipline and the University’s significant commitments to general education and undergraduate and graduate education.
