Single Subject University Intern Program (SSUIP)

The SSUIP, an alternative Teacher Preparation Program leading to a Single Subject Preliminary Credential, is offered collaboratively with California State University, Northridge (CSUN), and school districts within Los Angeles and Ventura Counties.

SSUIP is a two-year program, designed for on-the-job teacher candidates who teach in a public middle or high school, have completed a bachelor’s degree, and are eligible for admission to the CSUN credential program. Late afternoon and evening classes are held at CSUN. Summer and/or winter courses may be possible in order to complete the program before the Intern Credential expires.
