

Employment Opportunity

Company Description:

Glenfos, Inc. is a Chatsworth based full-service environmental consulting company that provides services to the private sector. Meticulous planning, combined with an in-depth study of the environmental market, culminated in the inception of Glenfos, Inc. (Global Environmental Focus).

Responsibilities:

Glenfos is seeking to augment its staff with an energetic individual who will work on multiple environmental projects. That person will work in conjunction with project managers, engineers and scientists to perform Phase I Environmental Site Assessments. These assessments include reviewing historical records, performing a site reconnaissance, reviewing regulatory records and report preparation. Other duties may include performing soil and groundwater investigation, remediation, regulatory compliance audits, or other related duties as assigned. Training will be provided.

Qualifications:

B.S. in Environmental Health and Safety, Geology, Engineering, or other related field. Applicants who have not completed a degree, but who are graduating seniors, will also be considered. Strong written and oral skills are required. Multi-tasking is essential. Must be proficient with word processing software. Experience with a consulting firm is preferred, but not required. OSHA 40-hour training is also desirable. Must be "hands-on" type, willing to travel, and spend time in the field when required.

Other Requirements:

Driver's License

Willing to use private vehicle for work in and around the Los Angeles Metropolitan area (mileage reimbursement provided).

Be willing to start part time and then work fulltime after graduation.

Benefits:

Medical, vision, dental, vacation, 401K and excellent pay.
