Establishing Agreements with International Recruitment Firms and Institutions:

1. CSUN Recruitment Services Agreements (RSA) are established through The CSUN College for Graduate, International, and Midcareer Education for three-year periods. For new agreements as well as the renewal of existing agreements, the screening process begins with the College asking prospective or renewing firms and institutions to complete or update a CSUN RSA Profile Sheet (Appendix A).

2. When working with recruitment service providers, the College follows best practices and recommendations for the use of international recruitment service providers prepared by the American International Recruitment Council (AIRC).

3. Well-regarded international academic institutions (colleges or universities) that have established memoranda of understanding (MOU) with CSUN can provide recruitment services for students currently enrolled in their institutions. In this case, a similar vetting process will be followed and adjusted as needed. If approved, an agreement will be created in keeping with CSU policies.

4. When the College sends the CSUN Recruitment Services Agreement Profile Sheet (Appendix A) to a prospective or renewing recruitment services firm, the College also asks if the firm or institution in question is certified by the AIRC. If the recruitment service provider in question claims to be AIRC certified, the College requires the recruitment service provider to submit a scanned copy of the current AIRC certification document.

Note: The College currently does not require every recruitment services firm/institution with which it develops a formal agreement to be AIRC certified (https://www.airc-education.org/airc-certification). It is expected that AIRC will continue to expand its certification and that many more recruitment services providers will seek certification from AIRC in the years ahead. The College will monitor this growth and move to require AIRC certification when the scope of AIRC’s work has grown enough to make it feasible.
5. As part of the review of each recruitment service provider seeking a working agreement with CSUN, the College requires a minimum of three (3) current and professional references from well-regarded colleges or universities with which the recruitment service provider is currently working with. The College requests that these references be directly based on a list of current clients provided by the recruitment service provider in question. The clients are asked to respond to a set of questions provided by the College (Appendix B).

Currently, the College accepts references from well-regarded institutions outside of the U.S., as well as from regionally accredited U.S. institutions. As recruitment services expand into the U.S. market, the College will require all references to be from a regionally accredited U.S. college or university for which the recruitment services provider in question is currently working with.

If the recruitment service provider in question is AIRC certified, the College considers the AIRC certification as one positive endorsement and requires only two additional references.

If the references are not positive, the College will decline to enter into an agreement with the prospective recruitment service provider in question. If one of the three references is not positive, the College may either ask for additional references and/or contact the individual providing the poor reference for a direct conversation. If the College is not convinced that the firm has three or more strongly positive references, the College will decline to enter into an agreement with the recruitment service provider in question.

6. As part of the College’s screening process, the College gives preference to those recruiting firms which are currently working with a CSU and/or UC campus and have a positive record of performance with the CSU and/or UC campus in question. If other CSU campuses use the recruitment service provider, the College contacts those CSU/UC campuses (whether or not they are listed among the prospective recruitment service provider’s references) to find out what their experience has been and whether or not they would recommend the firm or institution in question.

7. For international recruitment service providers seeking renewal of an agreement with CSUN, the Director of the College’s International Partnership and Programs Development (IPPD) unit reviews the work of the firm during the period of the prior agreement. If there are any concerns related to the performance of the service provider in question, the Director of IPPD recommends that the agreement not be renewed. For those recruiting services with which the College has had a successful and positive relationship during the prior agreement period, the Director of IPPD recommends that the agreement be renewed. The Director of IPPD presents the recommendation to renew or not renew to the Deputy Senior International Officer (DSIO). The DSIO makes the final determination; however, the DSIO may confer with the College Dean and/or seek additional information as needed to make a final decision.
8. For international recruitment service providers new to CSUN (or that have not had a formal agreement with CSUN within the last five years), once background research is complete, AIRC certification is verified and the required current and professional references are obtained, the Director of IPPD reviews the information and makes a recommendation to the DSIO of the College to either move forward with an agreement or not. The DSIO of the College makes the final determination about initiating or not initiating an agreement with the international recruitment service provider in question. The DSIO may confer with the College Dean and/or seek additional information as needed to make a final decision.

9. If a new or renewed agreement is approved by the DSIO of the College, that agreement is developed in accordance with the appropriate CSU international agreement template and proceeds through additional campus approvals. Those approvals include Purchasing and Contract Administration, Risk Management and the Provost/Vice President of Academic Affairs prior to the University President’s signature. In accordance with EO 1080, and prior to campus approvals, all agreements are reviewed and approved by Academic Affairs for the Chancellor’s Office as well as the Office of General Counsel.

CSUN Approach to Training Recruitment Services Firms

1. Once an RSA is approved with a recruitment service provider, the College provides the recruitment service provider with the following three documents: IEP, SAC & SSP Checklist Requirements, Degree Seeking Checklist Requirements and Team Contact list (Appendix C, D, & E respectively).

2. A team member from the IPPD presents a webinar or in-person training session to the recruitment service provider once the finalized RSA is in place. The focus of the training is to provide the recruitment service provider with detailed information on CSUN and its programs. The training also introduces the recruitment service provider and its staff to the ways in which the service can and cannot represent CSUN to its clients and how to use the appropriate web sites to give clients full and current information about a particular CSUN program.

3. As part of its international recruitment trips, the College regularly includes in visits to the recruitment services in the region where CSUN has a current agreement. Follow up training sessions are presented in person at international education conferences and during in-country recruitment trips made by CSUN staff. In-country training sessions are most often hosted at the offices of the recruiting service provider so the service’s principals and teams of advisors can participate. The in-country visits provide an opportunity to present training sessions to multiple advisors at the recruiting service provider and to ensure that their understanding of CSUN programs is current and correct.
4. To emphasize continuous training and regular CSUN staff engagement with recruitment service providers, the IPPD staff team sends quarterly newsletters, bi-yearly emails proper to each semester and access to various webinar trainings to all recruitment service providers with which there is a current agreement. These newsletters, emails and webinars contain information about changes in programs and/or requirements, procedures and updates about programs and services.

5. The various units within the College that interact with international students should alert the Director of IPPD whenever an international student seems to have been given incorrect information by a particular international recruitment service provider. If this occurs, the Director of IPPD immediately requests an “extra training session” with the recruiting service provider to correct the errors. The Director of IPPD records whenever such problems occur so such instances can be considered when it is time to renew the agreement with the recruitment service provider in question. In addition, if errors seem to be frequent and/or significant (which is rare), the Director of IPPD alerts the Deputy SIO of the College. The Deputy SIO will then confer with the Director of IPPD (and the Dean as appropriate) to see whether any further action is needed to address the problem and prevent it from recurring.

6. The College’s IPPD unit also creates various procedural documents that can be shared electronically to help guide the advisors of the recruiting firm when engaging prospective students. Technologies such as Zoom conferencing can also be used for enhancing the frequency of direct training.

CSUN Approach to Commission Payment for Recruitment Services

1. The College engages recruitment services for both matriculating and non-matriculating students at CSUN. For the CSUN Intensive English Program (IEP), the College currently pays 15% of the tuition received from students attending year-round in a non-group format for up to two consecutive terms. In each term, if the total number of new students exceeds 20 for that term, an additional 5% will be paid for all new students enrolled in that first term. For the Semester at CSUN (SAC) program, the College pays 15% of tuition received for students enrolled for up to two consecutive terms. For short-term customized programs, when agreed upon in advance, the College pays 15% of tuition received from students participating in the program. For students matriculating into CSUN degree programs, commission is paid at a flat fee as established in the RSA.

2. The College’s International Recruitment and External Relations Support Specialist (IRERSS) sends an email with student commission eligibility to a recruitment service provider three weeks after the first day of the eligible session or term, which is after the add/drop of a program. This is to ensure that all student movement has been finalized and that students are successfully enrolled.
3. The IRERSS verifies the following: 1) student(s) are enrolled in the specified term, 2) all tuition for the specified term is paid in full (For SAC students only – commission payment is based on all paid tuition, including extra units over the required minimum program tuition fee), and 3) students are appropriately assigned to the recruitment service provider within CSUN’s PeopleSoft database – SOLAR.

4. The recruitment service provider then submits an invoice for payment processing in USD amount.

5. If the invoice is correct, it is then prepared for payment.

6. If the invoice is incorrect, it is edited and sent back to recruitment services firm with revisions. Once the recruitment service provider resends a correct and updated invoice to the College’s IRERSS, payment is processed.

7. Secure long-term records of each payment are kept in PeopleSoft financials.

Intensive English Program (IEP)

The Intensive English Program (IEP) is a year-round academic program designed to ensure that students acquire and improve the English-language skills needed for success in the undergraduate or graduate degree program of their choice at colleges or universities.

The IEP not only prepares students academically for success in the university, but also offers students many benefits: supplemental after-school classes and tutoring, TOEFL/IELTS test preparation courses, access to our official ETS testing center, conditional admission to the university, TOEFL waivers for undergraduate and graduate studies (upon approval), and a certificate of completion.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old.

Intensive English Program (IEP) with Conditional Admission

Students can become pre-approved for admission to the undergraduate (Bachelor) or graduate (Master) degree program of their choice through IEP's Conditional Admission plan even if students have not yet met the English-language proficiency admission requirements of their target educational institution.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old.

Semester at CSUN Program (SAC)

(For undergraduate students only)

Semester at CSUN is designed for students who meet the English-language proficiency requirements to study in the university, but do not intend to matriculate (or transfer) to CSUN. With the assistance of SAC academic advisement staff, students are enrolled in CSUN courses and may complete coursework for credit. Credit earned may be transferred back to their home university (upon approval).

Applicants must be at least 18 years old.

Student Success Pathway (SSP)

(First time freshmen students only)

The Student Success Pathway is a pre-bachelor program that provides international students with a pathway into the university. Created for first-time freshmen, the program helps students develop the academic and English-language skills needed to succeed at CSUN.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old.

Contracted Academic Content & English-Language Instruction Programs

(Contract only)

To suit the needs of the groups of students who come to CSUN through a sponsoring organization, IPP designs customized programs of varying lengths and levels.
