Men With Guns
Written, Directed, and Edited by John Sayles

Dr. Fuentes is a man in search of his legacy: seven medical students he trained to work in impoverished indigenous towns. But early in his odyssey, he begins to suspect that the “men with guns” got there first, and with every step he is confronted by bloody realities he had long ignored. Now, his is an almost desperate quest, but for a mythical town deep in the rain—one last refuge of hope called cerca del cielo.

Starring: Fedérico Luppi, Dan Rivera González, Damián Delgado, Mandy Patinkin, Damián Alcázar, and Tania Cruz.

October 19th, 2017: 12:30 p.m.-3:00
Ferman Presentation Room #81, Oviatt Library

Sponsors of CAS Writing Film Series: La Ceiba: The Undergraduate Journal of Central American Studies, and the Department of Central American Studies.

axel.montepeque@csun.edu