FACULTY POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
TENURE-TRACK
(formerly AA-1)

Department: Kinesiology
Faculty Hire Number: 18-40

Effective Date of Appointment: August 22, 2018
(Subject to Budgetary Approval)

Rank: Assistant Professor, Exercise Physiology
Salary: Dependent upon qualifications

About the University:
One of the largest universities in the country, California State University, Northridge (CSUN) is an urban, comprehensive university that delivers award-winning undergraduate and graduate programs to nearly 40,000 students annually and counts more than 330,000 alumni who elevate Southern California and beyond. Since its founding in 1958, CSUN has made a significant and long-term economic impact on California, generating nearly $1.9 billion in economic impact and more than 11,700 jobs each year. The LAEDC recognized CSUN as its 2015 Eddy Award winner for its positive economic impact. Serving more students on Pell Grants than any other institution in California, CSUN is also a social elevator and one of the most diverse universities in the country. CSUN ranks 13th in awarding bachelor’s degrees to traditionally underserved students and enrolls the largest number of Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing students of any U.S. state university. The journal Nature recently named CSUN a Rising Star for scientific research, and the NSF ranks CSUN in the top five nationally among similar institutions for graduates who go on to earn doctorates in the sciences. CSUN is where individuals rise. And through them, so does Greater Los Angeles and beyond.

About the College:
The College of Health and Human Development (HHD) at California State University, Northridge (CSUN) is committed to student success. We are proud of our diverse faculty and staff. We have 50 staff members and a faculty of over 350 full- and part-time academic professionals who provide and support education, advising and mentorship opportunities to over 7,600 students enrolled in courses on campus and online.

Through nine academic departments, we offer 11 undergraduate and 10 graduate degree programs as well as self-supporting programs through the Tseng College of Graduate, International and Midcareer Education and two credentials in partnership with the Michael D. Eisner College of Education.

Our academic disciplines share the common objective of improving the quality of human life throughout the lifespan. Our graduates manage services and also work directly with the community. Study programs are enriched through internships, service-learning experiences, multiple touchpoints for advising, and a campus environment that is inclusive and active. CSUN HHD attracts and engages students from around the corner and around the world. Learn more: www.csun.edu/health-human-development

About the Department:
The Department of Kinesiology at CSUN is a learning centered-community where students, faculty and the community are at the forefront in the study of human movement. The department values and respects diversity, and its mission is to promote physical activity for personal expression and wellness throughout the lifespan. There are 28 full time faculty, and 75 lecturers/teaching associates serving more than 2,000 students in the areas of Athletic Training, Applied Fitness, Dance, Exercise Science, Physical Education and Sport Studies.

CSUN’s Commitment to You:
CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, check visit website at: http://www.csun.edu
Qualifications:
Applicants must possess a doctorate in Kinesiology, Physical Education, or closely related field from an accredited institution. ABD candidates will be considered, but must have completed the doctorate by August 21, 2018. Applicants must have the ability to teach courses in the areas of exercise science, exercise physiology, physical activity and health promotion across the lifespan, clinical and field applications of exercise science to fitness/wellness, health/fitness assessment, exercise testing and prescription, exercise epidemiology and evidence-based practice, and/or fitness/wellness programming and assessment. Effective communication skills and teaching experience at the college or university level are required. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment and ability to teach, work and mentor a diverse student population. Professional certification (NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist or ACSM Exercise Physiologist or ACSM Clinical Exercise Physiologist or ACSM Registered Clinical Exercise Physiologist) is preferred. Additional preferred qualifications include: 1) evidence of research ability and/or ongoing scholarly productivity, 2) ability to secure funding for research and comprehensive program development and assessment, 3) experience interfacing with people and public health agencies in the local communities, and 4) preparation to work in professional service activities beyond the campus. Applicants should possess a broad and balanced view of the discipline of Kinesiology, valuing equally the biological, socio-cultural and aesthetic knowledge of human movement across the life span. Experience with online teaching and instructional technology is highly desirable, as is the ability to work jointly with faculty within the department and in other departments on interdisciplinary projects.

At time of appointment, the successful candidate, if not a U.S. citizen, must have authorization from the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services to work in the United States.

Responsibilities:
Primary responsibilities include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in exercise physiology and cognate areas; secondary teaching responsibilities may include other closely related courses offered within the department. The typical teaching load is 12 units per semester. Faculty are also responsible for: student advisement; supervision of graduate research projects; maintaining an active program of scholarly research and publication; service on department, college and university committees as appropriate. The successful candidate should conduct publishable research and attempt to secure external funding to support research and scholarly activities. The successful candidate may be required to teach on weekdays, including evenings, and possibly weekends. The successful candidate will work closely with other faculty in the department.

Application Deadline:
Screening of applications will begin December 7, 2017. Priority will be given to applicants who meet the screening deadline; however, the position will remain open until filled.

How to apply:
Applicants must submit a cover letter that address commitment to working with a diverse student population and student success, curriculum vitae, and three current letters of recommendation (on official letterhead only) to the Interfolio application web address below. In later phases of the search process, applicants will be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, official transcripts, licenses and certificates.

This institution is using Interfolio’s ByCommittee to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge to:

https://apply.interfolio.com/46928

General Information:
In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.
CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting Recruitment Services at (818) 677-2101.