The successful candidate will advise undergraduate students and supervise graduate students.

In addition to teaching, the position requires weekly office hours, attending faculty meetings, and service to the department, college, and university. The successful candidate will be held to the standards and requirements of the college and department in which he/she/they is/are housed for recommending tenure and promotion.

Required Qualifications:

As a Hispanic-serving Institution (HSI), inclusiveness and diversity are integral to CSUN's commitment to excellence in teaching, research, and engagement. As of Fall 2020, CSUN enrolls ~40,000 students, where 56% are Latinx, 20.8% are White, 9.3% are Asian American, 4.8% are Black/African American, 0.1% are Native American, and 0.1% are Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander. The successful candidate will help the Department achieve equitable outcomes for all students through teaching, student mentorship, scholarship, and service.

- A Ph.D. in Construction Management, Construction Engineering or closely related discipline from an accredited institution.
- The candidate must demonstrate a strong commitment to effective teaching covering the core content of Construction Management at the undergraduate and graduate levels.
- Presently engaged in conducting research in the areas of construction management and/or construction engineering.
- Demonstrate an ability to perform multidisciplinary research.
- Demonstrated proficiency in both written and oral communication in English.
- Demonstrate the ability to teach, mentor, advise and effectively work with students from diverse background

Preferred Qualifications:

- Teaching and industry experience are desirable.

Application Deadline:

Screening of applications will begin Friday, November 19, 2021. Priority will be given to applicants who meet the screening deadline; however, the position will remain open until filled.

How to Apply:

Candidates should apply by completing the CSUN online application. To submit an application and for more detailed information on the application and hiring process, please visit this link: www.csun.edu/careers
