Position:

The department of Economics at California State University, Northridge (CSUN) is seeking two tenure-track faculty members at the rank of Assistant Professor. These two positions will involve teaching undergraduate Business and Economic students and MBA level students. To earn promotion and tenure, faculty are required to engage in research that results in refereed publications and to demonstrate an ongoing commitment to effective teaching and service to the university. Faculty engaged in research and publication are normally provided reassigned time to support their professional activities. At the time of appointment, candidates must meet current AACSB International standards for classification as Scholarly Academic (SA) and must continue to maintain this classification throughout their tenure.

In addition to teaching, the position requires weekly office hours, attending faculty meetings, and service to the department, college, and university. The successful candidate will be held to the standards and requirements of the college and department in which he/she/they is/are housed for recommending tenure and promotion.

Required Qualifications:

As a Hispanic-serving Institution (HSI), inclusiveness and diversity are integral to CSUN's commitment to excellence in teaching, research, and engagement. As of Fall 2020, CSUN enrolls ~40,000 students, where 56% are Latinx, 20.8% are White, 9.3% are Asian American, 4.8% are Black/African American, 0.1% are Native American, and 0.1% are Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander. The successful candidate will help the Department achieve equitable outcomes for all students through teaching, student mentorship, scholarship, and service. A successful candidate must meet the following requirements:

- Hold a Ph.D. in Economics or a related discipline by the time of appointment (Fall 2022)
- Have research interests in one or more of the following fields: Industrial Organization, Economic History, Behavioral Economics, Monetary Economics, or Open Economy Macroeconomics
- Have experience teaching undergraduate-level economics classes as an instructor or teaching assistant
- Demonstrate a commitment to CSUN's goal of fostering diversity, equity, and inclusion

Preferred Qualifications:

Priority will be given to candidates with:

- A record of publication and the capacity to develop and sustain a research program that will result in peer-reviewed publications
- Evidence of outstanding teaching ability and experience working with a diverse student population

Application Deadline:

Screening of applications will begin December 1, 2021. Priority will be given to applicants who meet the screening deadline; however, the position will remain open until filled.

How to Apply:

Applicants must submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, and evidence of scholarship. In addition, applicants must submit a statement that explains how diversity has influenced their teaching and research. Candidates are strongly encouraged to submit these materials through the American Economic Association's JOE portal (<https://www.aeaweb.org/joe>).

In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses, and certificates.

At time of appointment, the successful candidate, if not a U.S. citizen, must have authorization from the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) to work in the United States.

Inquiries and applications can be addressed to:

Kent Hymel
 Chair, Economics Department Search and Screen Committee
 David Nazarian College of Business and Economics
 California State University, Northridge
 Northridge, CA 91330-8374 (econ.search@csun.edu)

Electronic submission of all application material through the Job Openings for Economics (JOE) portal is preferred.
