OFFICE HOURS: Tuesday & Thursday, 12:00 - 1:00 pm on Zoom, and by appointment

Course Description

This course is a study of the legal aspects of international business transactions, including an introduction to public international law; an analysis of international sales contracts; international trade regulation; technology transfer and protection of intellectual property rights; and issues relating to foreign direct investment. Prerequisites: BLAW 280; BUS 302, 302L for BSBA majors; passing score on the Upper-Division writing Proficiency Exam (WPE).

Course Objectives

You will gain an understanding of the various legal rules that apply to decision-making in the business environment, and to use these rules to manage legal risk and make ethical decisions. You will develop your analytical, argumentation, and writing skills by reading and briefing court decisions, identifying legal issues and legally relevant facts, using rules and facts to support an argument, and applying rules through oral discussion of cases and hypothetical problems in class and through written analysis on examinations.

Required Texts

The required texts for this course are Richard Schaffer et al., INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS LAW AND ITS ENVIRONMENT (10th ed. 2015) (ISBN: 9781305972599) ("TEXT") and Saunders, International Business Law Supplement ("SUPP"). The supplement is available for download free of charge on the course Canvas site under Modules.

All enrolled students have immediate access to the electronic version of the textbook through Canvas. You will have until the end of the third week (02/12/2021), in which case you will not be charged but will lose access to the textbook and must obtain the textbook elsewhere on your own. Otherwise, a $46.50 charge will be placed on your CSUN portal account and you will be responsible for paying that charge to the University.

If you prefer to rent or purchase the textbook in hard copy, it is available online from the publisher at: <https://www.cengage.com/c/international-business-law-and-its-environment-10e-schaffer/9781305972599/?searchISBN=9781305972599>

Class Attendance and Participation

The course will be conducted through use of assigned readings, written case briefs and discussion answers, and online chat discussion sessions. You must check Canvas regularly for announcements, assignments, deadlines, and other course information. Preparation entails reading the assigned materials, listening to the recorded audio lectures and briefing the assigned cases. As you read the text and listen to the audio lectures, you should take notes on the outline provided for each lecture.

Part of your final grade will be based on your participation in chat discussion sessions and in discussions on the Canvas discussion board. Participation is more than attendance in chat sessions and time spent on Canvas. You are strongly encouraged to attend and actively participate in class chat discussions and to respond the questions posted for threaded discussions on Canvas/Discussions. I also encourage each of you to meet with me at least once during the semester during my Zoom office hour after each chat discussion. I will monitor your participation and post your participation score at the end of the course.

Method of Assessment

You must brief assigned cases for each lecture. Case briefing involves summarizing a court opinion. If you have never briefed a case before, you should study handout “How to Brief a Case” and the slides entitled “Briefing the Matimak Case” posted on Canvas/Modules. Even if you learned how to brief cases previously, it is worth reviewing these resources so you understand my expectations as to format. Before each chat discussion, you have the option of submitting specified briefs for one (1) extra credit participation point per brief. If your brief does not follow the format described in the slides, however, you will not receive an extra credit point.

Your final grade will be computed based on the total number of points you accumulate during the semester on the following:

Examination I	40 points
Examination II	40 points
Examination III	40 points
Class Participation	15 points
TOTAL	135 points
Case Briefs (extra credit)	30 points
Optional Extra Credit Assignments	15 points

The final grade will be based on a class curve. Plus and minus grading will be applied for the final grade. You will be able to use your textbook, notes, and outlines during the exams. Except in emergency or unforeseeable circumstances that can be documented, there are no make-up examinations. In addition to extra credit toward participation for submitting case briefs, there will be two optional extra credit assignments before the second and third exams.

Examinations will include both multiple choice questions and one or more essay questions. The essay questions will require you to analyze factual situations, identify legal issues, and apply the law in determining the outcome of hypothetical cases. Essay answers must follow the IRAC format. Answers must provide an analysis of the issue by applying legal rules to the facts to provide reasons for a conclusion. If you are unfamiliar with this structure of organizing a legal analysis, study the handout “How to Write an IRAC Analysis” that is posted on Canvas/Modules. If your essay answers are not structured in IRAC format, you will not receive full credit for the answer.

Academic Dishonesty

You are also responsible for knowing and following the CSUN Academic Dishonesty Policy. Collaboration on assignments and examinations is prohibited. Instances of academic dishonesty will be immediately reported to Student Affairs for further discipline and will result in a grade of “F” for the course. The CSUN Academic Dishonesty Policy is available at: <https://catalog.csun.edu/policies/academic-dishonesty/>
