Do What Matters Most

LEAD WITH A VISION, MANAGE WITH A PLAN, PRIORITIZE YOUR TIME

In our research, we found that 68% percent of people feel their biggest challenge is how to prioritize their time, yet 80% of those same people don't have a process to do what matters most. We understand how challenging it can be to stay ahead of the curve and get everything done. In this session, learn three habits you can use to take control of your schedule and do what matters most. These habits will help you accomplish more than 800 - 1000 important things this year than you likely would have done otherwise. Learn how to provide better leadership, higher productivity, higher profitability, and an improved culture. On the personal side, it translates into improved health, better relationships, more money, and increased focus.

About Rob Shallenberger

Rob is one of the world's leading authorities on leadership, time-management, and productivity. He has trained and spoken for hundreds of organizations around the world such as the Dallas Cowboys, PepsiCo, the Rwandan Government, and many others. He is the CEO of Becoming Your Best Global Leadership and is the bestselling author of five different books focused on leadership, time-management, and productivity. His company has established a top ranked certification program for other trainers and coaches. Rob began his career by spending two years of service in Bolivia. Following his service mission, he attended Utah State University, and went on to earn an MBA from Colorado State University. He served as an F-16 Pilot in the United States Air Force for 11 years. He was also an Advance Agent for Air Force One and traveled the world working with foreign embassies and the Secret Service.
