Get Inspired Session! Online Teaching and Learning
Tuesday, October 1st, 2:00-3:00pm or
Wednesday, October 2nd, 9:30-10:30am
Oviatt Library 30

Have you wondered what a well-designed online course looks like? Are you considering moving one of your courses from in-person to online? During this session, invited CSUN faculty will share their experiences planning, creating, and facilitating online courses. We will also introduce you to eLearning resources and share details on upcoming online and eLearning programs.

RSVPs help us plan for light refreshments. Join us to get inspired about online teaching and learning at CSUN!

Online Teaching and Learning Series
Tuesdays, Oct. 15th, 29th & Nov. 5th, 1:00–4:00pm or Wednesdays, Oct. 16th, 30th & Nov. 6th, 9:30am–12:00pm
Oviatt Library 30

Are you ready to learn more about teaching online courses? Sign up to attend a three-part workshop series geared to get you prepared to plan, create and facilitate an online course at CSUN.

Topics covered include:

- Planning Your Online Course: Learn best practices for building a new online or hybrid course or redesigning a traditional face-to-face course for online or hybrid delivery.
- Creating Content for Online Learners: Discover how to create digital content and online lectures as well as techniques for how to effectively organize and sequence your course content online.
- Facilitating Learning in an Online Environment: Explore techniques and strategies for managing teaching and learning in online environments and best practices for evaluating student work.

Pre-registration is required and space is limited. This workshop series is geared toward faculty who have familiarity with Canvas. For those new to Canvas, we suggest a Canvas Essentials workshop or the Teaching with Canvas self-paced online course before attending this series.

Priority will be given to those who have not previously attended an eLearning Institute. Participants will receive a $100 stipend after attending all three workshops and are eligible for a second $100 stipend for completing post workshop activities (completing a survey and sharing sample course materials we can show as examples for future workshops). There will be two sets of sessions offered this Fall: Tuesdays 1–4pm and Wednesdays 9:30–noon (and additional dates available in Spring):
For more information, please visit the Faculty Development Event page and to RSVP.

Winter eLearning Institute 2020

Have you always wanted to participate in an eLearning Institute at CSUN? This year’s program will focus on best practices for designing and teaching fully online courses. Look for future announcements with application and details for the next eLearning Institute. The Winter 2020 dates will be January 10, 13 and 15. Additional asynchronous activities will take place during the Spring semester and will end with a culminating workshop day in May after finals week.

If you are interested in receiving more information once the details are finalized, please complete our interest form.

Active Learning 101 Workshop

Friday, October 11th
11:00am-1:00pm
EU 101

Faculty Development’s Active Learning Ambassadors are hosting a workshop to learn about different teaching strategies to engage students in deep-learning! All Faculty and graduate teaching assistants are welcome.

For more information, please visit the Faculty Development Event page and to RSVP.

Learning-Centered Teaching Keynote Speaker Recommendations
Faculty Development is interested in bringing a keynote speaker to campus to discuss evidence-based classroom strategies that promotes learning centered teaching. We welcome your recommendations on who should be considered.

Faculty Success Grant
Requests for Proposals Deadline October 4th at 4:00pm

The Office of Faculty Development is excited to announce requests for proposals for our Faculty Success Grant!

All faculty who would like to engage in a professional development activity this academic year and make the case that it would benefit ALL three areas of faculty engagement (teaching, scholarship, service) are encouraged to submit a proposal. The grant awards up to $1000 and can be used towards activities such as:

- travel and/or conference fees for teaching focused conference
- travel and/or conference fees to a discipline-specific scholarly conference
- travel and/or conference fees to a leadership-focused professional development opportunity for faculty
- memberships to faculty success oriented organizations

A detailed request for proposals is posted on our Faculty Development Grant website.

CSU Launches New Community for Research Development Professionals
Friday, September 20th
9:00am–11:00am
As part of a new initiative to build a community of research development professionals across the CSU system, the Office of the Chancellor is hosting a live webcast. The presentations are for an audience of professionals whose contributions include grant proposal development, research strategies, collaboration-building, and outreach and communication. The webcast is a series of short presentations to begin a dialogue and will be followed by future events that allow for deeper content and discussion. Registration required.

Registration required.

Essentials of Grant Proposal Development: A Self-Paced Training Program

CSUN is proud to offer a new self-paced training program in grant proposal development through the CITI program.

To sign up, login or register for free (be sure to select CSUN as your affiliation), go to "Add a Course," and then choose "Essentials of Grant Proposal Development."

---

Pride Center Open House

Wednesday, September 18th

9:00am–11:00am

Pride Center, University Student Union
(2nd floor of Sol Center)
Serve as Grant Reviewer for Faculty Development
Are you looking to give back to our CSUN community at the university level? Consider applying to serve on next year's review committee for one of our Faculty Development grants: (1) probationary faculty grant; (2) learning-centered grant; (3) faculty success grant. This is a great learning opportunity to understand what happens “behind the scenes” during the grant review and awarding process, which can help enhance your own grant writing skills while providing service to the university.

If you would like to serve, please let us know.

---

Mindful Eating | LifeMatters Webinar
Wednesday, September 25th
9:00am or 12:00pm

Life Matters webinar will include the following: Mindless eating habits are not easy to change. Learn the benefits of paying attention to the experience of eating and drinking.

For more information, please visit the Human Resources Professional Development website.
Faculty Development provides relevant and thought-provoking programming to support all faculty in their teaching, scholarship, service, and leadership journeys. Our programming and partnerships are informed by equity-mindedness, technology-enriched best practices, and data-driven inquiry. We seek a supportive culture of shared power that engages with the well-being and success of both faculty and students.

Visit our website for more information: www.csun.edu/facdev or E-mail us at: facdev@csun.edu

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences, unsubscribe from this list.