ADVISOR SPOTLIGHT

Hello Matadors! My name is Maryna Volkava and I am one of the academic advisors at the Matador Advising Hub. I started my career at CSUN in 2009. Besides working with domestic students, I also assist our International Student population to meet their unique needs and reach educational goals and success at CSUN. I enjoy working with students from diverse cultural and geographic backgrounds. It is my pleasure to guide, support and mentor students through their academic journey at CSUN. Go Matadors!

Hello Matadors! My name is Lucio Simental. I've been working at CSUN for 10 years now, and have worked in various areas in higher education. I've worked with community college students, exploratory students, math majors, first time freshmen, STEM and non-STEM students, veterans, athletes, and the list goes on and on. I enjoy working with first time freshmen because we get to see you begin your academic journey and move on into your desired field of study. College is a roller coaster so hang on but have fun! Welcome to CSUN, future alum!

To promote a culture of respect on campus, all CSUN students — and all college students in the United States — must complete a sexual misconduct and violence awareness and prevention education program. At CSUN this training is online, interactive and video-based, featuring real-life student testimonials.

All students who are required to take the training will have a "Title IX Not Anymore" registration hold that prevents enrollment in classes. Once the training is completed, the hold will be removed within 24 hours.
