

KEITH GOLDSTEIN MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

This $2,000 scholarship honors Keith Goldstein, the longtime KCSN News director who passed away in May 2016. Keith often referred to himself as an "old-school journalist." He devoted his life to teaching our students the all-important foundation skills needed in the workplace. Many of his former students can be heard on many local/regional broadcast outlets, ranging from KFI-FM and NBC4 to KPCC and beyond.

Qualifications

A qualified recipient must be a full-time Journalism major entering their Junior or Senior year. Submission is allowed on any platform or format. Application must include a cover letter, explaining the portfolio's focus and content.

Selection

The recipient will be selected through competitive review of applicants' portfolios, which should represent a cross-section of their media work. The work presented must have been distributed, implemented or tested by student, university, citizen or professional media or public relations outlets.

Portfolios must:

- ✦ include journalistic, public relations and/or scholarly work completed as a CSUN student.
- ✦ show creative, independent and critical-thinking ability;
- ✦ represent high ethical and research standards;
- ✦ demonstrate diversity of subjects and people portrayed; and/or diversity of publics and communities engaged.

Students should submit work by electronic portfolio, including links to digital content in the cover letter. Paper and non-digital samples should be scanned, where possible, and submitted with the application as attachments. Include name and CSUN ID.
