

LISA ENDIG JOURNALISM WRITING SCHOLARSHIP 2022 APPLICATION FORM

This scholarship honors the memory of Lisa Endig, a CSUN broadcast student, who went on to become an Emmy-winning documentary writer-producer before dying of cancer in 1989 at age 36. The scholarship, supported by contributions from her family, friends and colleagues, will be awarded to a journalism student, undergraduate or graduate, who shows outstanding ability in writing for broadcast or print. The applicants' academic records will be a consideration, with a preference toward students with a GPA of 2.5 or better. The scholarship committee will also give consideration to students who are overcoming difficulties while continuing their education. All recipients must be enrolled in the Spring 2022 semester and with a minimum of 6 academic units remaining in the Fall 2022 semester. Applicants are required to submit examples of their journalistic work. This includes writing that was broadcast on KCSN, Valley View, Matador News and On Point or published in The Sundial, Scene or El Nuevo Sol.

The Lisa Endig Journalism Writing Scholarship recognizes students who have had to overcome difficult circumstances to continue their education. Describe these circumstances as they apply to you.

Note: University scholarships are intended to support your education. If you are awarded a scholarship, the funds will first be applied to your student account to pay tuition and/or outstanding university fees. If there is a balance after all fees are paid, then a refund check will be mailed to your address on file.

I certify all of the information provided in this application is correct and that I will be enrolled at CSUN in Fall 2022.
