FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Games Room’s “Music Night” at the USU to Feature Debut of Up and Coming Indie Rock Band

Northridge — The Games Room at the University Student Union is excited to invite all CSUN students to rock out with free live music at “Music Night” on Thursday, Feb. 18 from 8 to 10 p.m. This semester’s featured artist is the up and coming indie rock group, “Andrew Young and Goodnight To That” making their debut performance at this exclusive USU event.

“Music Night was highly acclaimed by Matadors last year so we’re bringing it back this semester,” said Jeremy Hamlett, Commercial Services Manager, “Everyone should come and check out ‘Andrew Young and Goodnight To That’. It’s an emerging new band that will put on an awesome show for students to enjoy for free with their friends.”

There will also be free food for students to enjoy along with the entertainment. You don’t want to miss out on this night of live music, good times and great company!
