Any Dream Is Possible at the 17th Annual “Student Showcase” Talent Competition in the University Student Union

Northridge—The University Student Union (USU) invites all Matadors to enter a dreamscape of unbelievable talent at the University Student Union’s 17th Annual “Student Showcase: Any Dream Is Possible” in the Plaza del Sol Performance Hall of the University Student Union. On Wednesday, Nov. 7, from 7 to 10 p.m., CSUN students can watch as super-talented Matadors take the stage to show off their singing, dancing and other incredible skills in the hopes of winning big cash prizes and the hearts of the judges.

“Student Showcase is the best opportunity for CSUN students to share their unique talents with fellow Matadors,” said Ben Zimmerman, Student Event Assistant with USU Events. “It’s always a fun and exciting event when the audience makes dreams come true by coming out and supporting their favorite performers.”

The USU Events team is marking the seventeenth year of “Student Showcase” by integrating audience participation into the awards process. Students in attendance will now have the opportunity to vote for their favorite performance of the night and the act with the most votes will win $200 and the “Audience Favorite” award. In addition, the triumphant performers chosen by the judges for the “Best Solo Performance Act” and “Best Group Performance Act” categories will each walk away with $500.
