ANTICIPATED NEEDS: URBS 408. Policy Making for Urban Planners

Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Current Courses or Specialization
The course will comprehensively address the complex arena of public policy in relation to city planning, land-use issues and urban policy. This will incorporate how a society based on pluralist democracy balances the demands of a range of interest groups, including planners, city bureaucracies, politicians, community groups, private-sector economic interests, the non-profit sector, state and federal agencies and the general public. The focus will be on issues related to the built environment and the controversial nature of constant transformation of land uses in cities. In addition, the course will address the interrelationship between local government implementation strategies and federal urban program laws and regulations. The course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the linkages between urban social policy, distributional equity in local and federal programs, and environmental considerations within the arena of governmental decision-making systems.

Qualifications
1. Completion of a master’s degree is required, Ph.D. desired, in urban studies, planning (city, urban, regional, etc.), or a closely related field.
2. Prior university or college-level teaching experience desired with positive teaching evaluations.
3. Ability to teach/mentor a diverse student population.
4. Professional experience as a city, urban, or regional planner preferred.

Salary Range
Fractional amount of base salary ($4229 - $6335) paid in six monthly installments.
Application Process:
Applicants must submit a current resume and a cover letter which describes their qualifications, designates the specific courses they are interested in teaching, and whenever possible, times available for teaching assignments. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:
For AY 2020 – 2021: March 30, 2020
For Spring Semester 2020 Only:
