"I chose CSUN because of how close-knit the black community seemed. I also was intrigued by the opportunities for growth that the campus offered students with my background.

My favorite part about CSUN is that I never felt alone; I always felt supported with my studies. So much so that I chose to stay on this campus and complete another degree."

Destiny Chapron, Master's (in progress): marriage and family therapy
Undergraduate major: family and consumer sciences
Minor: Africana studies

Students interested in joining our community may apply at calstate.edu/apply.

"My favorite things about CSUN are the free resources offered around campus, from tutoring to the Oasis, along with a free clinic that's included in tuition."

Alexis Williams
Major: public health
