

2018-19 Web Accessibility Plan

April 2, 2019

As part of our commitment to excellence through diversity and inclusion, California State University, Northridge (CSUN) strives to ensure that campus communication and information technology is accessible to everyone. The California State University system statement on accessibility is articulated in The California State University - Executive Order 1111, in accordance with both federal and state laws including the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and Section 508 of the U.S. Rehabilitation Act.

Everyone has a part in creating accessible and usable information. The responsibility of creating and maintaining accessible content falls to the entire campus community. Disability Resources and Educational Services (DRES) and NCOD: Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services support students who require accommodations. The Universal Design Center (UDC) provides training to faculty and staff on accessibility best practices and techniques and monitors compliance. All three departments assist with more challenging situations.

While we have mature process around the campus hosted web content management system, Web-One, the campus administrative web presence is much broader. Our focus for 2019-20 will be to define the scope of the administrative web presence, to include websites developed by vendors.

Note: CSUN does not grant exemptions. All CSUN administrative websites and web applications must adhere to relevant federal and state laws, CSU and CSUN policies, and the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.0 Level AA.
