5 Reasons to study Russian
1. Russian is designated as a “critical need” language by the U.S. Government.
2. Los Angeles is home to the fifth largest Russian American community in the U.S. (largest in the West coast)
3. Russian helps students of diverse majors master skills helpful in their future careers.
4. Many CSUN students who completed the Russian minor had the opportunity to visit Russia.
5. 2018 FIFA World Cup will be in Russia!

The Russian minor is available to all CSUN students regardless of major. Courses will cover Russian language, culture, history, government, and economy, just to mention a few. It especially complements degrees in business, linguistics, history, engineering, economics, political science and journalism. Knowing Russian language and culture enriches students’ global perspectives and expands career choices.

Call (818) 677-3300 to make an appointment and speak with an advisor about possible substitutions. The minor can be completed with as few as 20 units.
