Women

in Los Angeles politics

Los Angeles, the second largest city in the nation, has witnessed a decline in the number of women holding elective office in recent years. Current City Councilmember Nury Martinez, former City Controller and mayoral candidate Wendy Greuel, and former City Councilmember Joy Picus will discuss their experiences as women serving in elective office in the city of Los Angeles, as well as the challenges that women face in seeking elective office in the city.

Parking is $6 per car at the Information Booth at Prairie Street and Darby Avenue. Seating is limited. Please RSVP to cscs@csun.edu or call 818.677.3330.

Communication services (sign language interpreters, note takers, real-time captionists, or assistive listening devices) are available for this event. Requests for services must be submitted at least five (5) working days in advance.
