Weighting :

Please correct any imbalances in your data by weighting before sending it, so that you provide a representative sample of the population (or a representative sample of the stated universe, if this is not a total population sample).

Each individual respondent's weight needs to be written onto columns 48-57 of the record. The first 4 columns 48-50 will refer to the whole number (including leading zeros). Column 51 contains the decimal.

Finally columns 52-57 must contain the decimal places (including zeros).

See these examples:

Respondent with a weight of 2.4567 must have 002.456700 in columns 48-57.

Respondent with a weight of 122.001 must have 122.001000 in columns 48-57.
